To the Honourable Dianne Cunningham
Minister of Training, Colleges and Universities
Queen’s Park

I take pleasure in submitting the Annual Report of the Ontario Educational Communications Authority (TVOntario) for the fiscal year April 1, 2002, to March 31, 2003. This is done in accordance with Section 12 (1) of the Ontario Educational Communications Authority Act.

This Annual Report outlines the priorities and successes for the year 2002–03 during which we continued in our unique capacity of providing necessary and useful educational resources through broadcast and online technologies to the people of Ontario. In this year we created a new television programming strand called UTVO that uses our network to broadcast special course-related programs in partnership with Ontario colleges and universities that also appeal to general interest viewers. We integrated the province’s Independent Learning Centre – Ontario’s elementary and high school distance education facility – into the TVOntario family, launched the Lifelong Learning Challenge Fund projects and refined the services of our Independent Learning division to provide more online educational aids for children and adults throughout Ontario.

I invite you to review the 2002–03 educational programming and independent learning accomplishments in the pages that follow.

Mandate

TVOntario’s mandate is to serve as an adjunct to the formal education and training systems in Ontario, by using television and other communications technologies to provide high quality educational programs, curriculum resources, and distance education courses in English and in French.

In 1970, TVOntario was established as the Ontario Educational Communications Authority. As defined by our mandate, TVOntario initiates, produces, and provides uninterrupted programming and access to interactive media resources that educate, inform, and enrich all Ontarians.

TVOntario is committed to educational strategies that incorporate and support quality lifelong learning opportunities for adults and children, using the power of educational television programming and ongoing developments in e-learning. This is achieved by linking our educational television programming to the Ontario curriculum, by creating integrated program and interactive online services, and by developing post-secondary credit courses and online skills training products in partnership with colleges and universities, all in support of Ontario’s education system.

A message from the Chair and Chief Executive Officer

This Annual Report Card covers the period of 2002-03, wherein we completed the final year of the 2000-03 three-year business plan and introduced a new set of strategic directions to guide the organization into its next three-year strategy.

2002-03 Priorities

The year began with a focus on three core priorities set by the TVOntario Board of Directors for the fiscal year 2002-03.

1. Reinforce the emphasis on formal education in lifelong learning through our broadcast and new media products and markets to provide the best quality educational and curriculum-based service to Ontario.

2. Improve our self-sufficiency through the development of new revenue streams, leveraging opportunities, and partnerships.

3. Develop a corporate culture that is efficient, entrepreneurial, and dedicated to the provision of the highest quality service.

At a Board retreat in May of 2002, the Board put a stronger focus on the creation of programs designed to meet formal educational needs and to reach a more diverse set of audiences and on building stronger strategic partnerships to support our core business.

These new directions established the framework for our 2003-06 business plan, and at the same time improved the programs and services we provided to Ontarians in 2002-03.

In the pages that follow, you will find a review of the year’s activities for each individual programming and revenue area, outlining our priorities, our targets, and our achievements.

Looking Ahead 2003–04

TVOntario enters the fiscal year 2003-04 with its second three-year business plan, one that clearly defines the strategy for meeting our renewed educational mandate.

This plan will build on the successes of the past three years and correct our weaknesses. It will continue the emphasis on meeting Ontario’s formal education needs, and will put the focus on all issues from an Ontario perspective. It also establishes a new priority: to better promote the increasing diversity of Ontario society and to broaden the reach of TVOntario’s programs and services to previously under-served communities in the province.

By the end of this three-year plan in 2005-06, TVOntario will demonstrate that we play a distinctive role. We will not duplicate other broadcasters but provide a unique service as an invaluable adjunct to the formal education and training systems in Ontario. The chart on the opposite page outlines TVOntario’s strategic directions.
Strategic Directions and Key Deliverables, 2003-06

</table>
| 1. Adjust the broadcast schedule to meet the formal education needs of key target audiences. | • All children’s and youth programming, on air or online, will be tied to the Ontario curriculum.
• TVO will broadcast programs that are part of accredited college and university courses in Ontario, to help meet the needs of the “double cohort” and other formal education priorities. |
| 2. Develop and implement a French as a second language initiative for French Immersion schools and adults interested in the French language. | • The reach of TFO’s educational services will be extended to students in French Immersion programs and adults seeking to learn French in Ontario. |
| 3. Promote diversity to reach a significantly broader market and reflect the changing reality of Ontario society. | • The increasing diversity of Ontario society will be reflected in TVO’s and TFO’s on-air hosts and guests, the subject matters dealt with on air, the design of online resources and independent learning courses, and the make-up of the workforce. |
| 4. Increase access to programs targeted at those facing barriers to high quality educational programs and resources. | • TVO and TFO will provide closed captioning for all programs where it is feasible and possible to do so.
• Online resources and distance education resources will be designed to ensure easy access for those facing technological or other barriers. |
| 5. Build partnerships with teachers, post-secondary institutions, other provincial agencies, and the private sector, that support TVOntario’s new educational mandate. | • A range of new partnerships with teachers, libraries, colleges and universities, community groups, other provincial agencies, and the private sector will be in place to support core business activities and promote use of our programs and services. |
| 6. Develop a new marketing and communications strategy to promote awareness and use of TVOntario products. | • A new communications strategy targeted at key stakeholder groups will increase the brand awareness and use of TVO, TFO, and Independent Learning Centre products.
• A stronger emphasis on community outreach will increase the use of TVO, TFO, and ILC programs and services among a more diverse range of communities in Ontario. |
| 7. Develop a stable, renewable resource base that builds greater financial self-sufficiency. | • The Membership base will be increased to over 100,000 and the TVOntario Foundation will raise $2.5 million annually in gifts to support and enhance educational programming.
• New sales and licensing revenue streams will be developed, including revenues from independent learning products, to increase TVOntario’s self-sufficiency. |
| 8. Build a learning organization that fosters innovation and promotes creativity and risk-taking in ways that strengthen our core business. | • Investments in digital technologies and training will improve the effectiveness of TVOntario’s operations and the quality of its educational products and services.
• An Innovation Fund will be introduced, to take advantage of the best ideas from throughout the organization.
• The educational effectiveness of all products will be rigorously evaluated. |

As is demonstrated by the Report Card for 2002-03, and these exciting new directions for 2003-06, TVOntario remains committed to sustaining a strong and vital organization to provide necessary and valuable educational resources to the people of Ontario.

Isabel Bassett
Chair and CEO
In 2002-03 TVOntario’s Independent Learning Centre (ILC) was created by integrating the Ministry of Education’s Independent Learning Centre with TVOntario’s E-Learning Division. The new ILC now focuses on utilizing the flexibility and reach of the Internet to offer courses, student support and links to other educational opportunities across Ontario in an easily accessible, interactive environment.

2002-03 Priorities

• Become the destination of choice for lifelong learning resources and services on the Internet for Ontario children at home, their parents, elementary and secondary students, and adult learners.

• Integrate the ILC into the E-Learning division, and develop a new vision and business plan for an enhanced, Web-based distance education service.

• Partner with the educational community to create and deliver educational e-learning resources supporting Ontario’s educational priorities.

• Leverage opportunities with professional associations, business, and industrial sectors to provide professional development, skills training, and lifelong learning resources.

• Extend the availability of hours for Ask a Teacher, and take other appropriate steps to ensure accessibility for everyone.

• Strengthen partnerships with libraries, homework clubs, and other organizations to better meet the needs of students facing barriers to access.

• Ensure ILC programs meet the needs of new Canadians.

Successes

• We moved the ILC to the TVOntario building, integrated the Centre into the TVOntario organization, developed 14 new courses, and ended the year with over 22,000 students enrolled in courses, all with no disruption to the existing service.

• We doubled the number of hours live tutors are available on the Ask a Teacher Web site to service the increased demand.

• We added 200 job descriptions to the CareerMATTERS Web site and we now have over 500 job descriptions.

• CareerMATTERS added a Resources section that includes a curriculum planner to assist students in planning Ontario high school courses.

• CareerMATTERS entered into a new partnership with CON’NECT Ontario, and placed 35 new videos – with corresponding job and education paths representing Ontario colleges of applied arts and technology – on the CareerMATTERS Web site.

• The Lifelong Learning Challenge Fund delivered six of the eight funded courses – in partnership with private sector and educational institutions and co-funded by the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities – launching them officially at an event at Centennial College.

Looking Ahead 2003–04

The ILC will launch four online courses and increase the availability of its online resources in 2003-04 to those facing barriers to access, by partnering with libraries, adult education centres, industry associations, employment centres, and community groups. The LLCF, as a result of a second government fund, will also focus on a new series of online apprenticeship and skilled trades programs throughout Ontario, in partnership with the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities and the private sector.

Key Numbers

2002-03 Priorities

• Provide quality non-commercial educational programming reflecting the citizens of Ontario, that educates, enriches, and enlightens, while maintaining significant audiences – Television that matters.

• Refine the schedule to reflect a greater emphasis on lifelong learning, with a special focus on children’s programming based on the Ontario educational curriculum, and adult prime time programming that meets the lifelong learning needs of adults.

• Use the broadcast vehicle to promote TVOntario’s non-broadcast educational products available through other technologies.

• Develop and implement a successful model for creating high school curriculum content available online to students and teachers – curriculum content that is linked to selected broadcast content.

• Beginning in September 2002, pilot and evaluate three post-secondary programs in low view times targeted at the “double cohort.”

• Create a teacher advisory committee with representatives from both the public and non-public sectors for curriculum and adult programs.

• Produce more curriculum-based interstitials for the children’s viewing blocks to ensure their educational uniqueness.

• Show a marked increase in diversity in terms of on-air guests and subject matter in Studio 2, Imprint, and More to Life.

• Build more biographies into interstitials for the adult viewing blocks.

• Increase the regional coverage on Studio 2.

• Refocus More to Life and Imprint to reflect the new mandate in formal education, with a clear focus on Ontario.

• Adjust the broadcast schedule to meet the formal education needs of key target audiences.

Looking Ahead 2003–04

For 2003-04 TVO is dedicated to strengthening the educational value and distinctiveness of all our programming blocks, with a special emphasis on children’s and youth programming and the tvokids.com and VOX Web sites. We will increase the number of UTVO programs and continue to focus all in-house productions to offer in-depth looks at the social and cultural diversity of Ontario.

Successes

• Maintaining the longstanding tradition of providing unparalleled educational programming, TVO continued to use the television medium to educate, enlighten, and inform. With continuing partnerships with Ontario universities and educational institutions, TVO maintained its commitment to providing programming that is Ontario-focused and promotes education, cultural diversity, and lifelong learning.

• TVO Kids produced convergent projects that focused on education.

• TVO Kids continued to seek input from parents and educators, and a tvokids.com council was established to collect feedback for the educational direction of online content.

• tvokids.com page views have climbed to over 9 million per month.

• The Nook produced a number of new series that were tied to the Ontario curriculum.

• More to Life increased its focus on education and produced four hour-long, “More to Life @ Class” prime time specials.

• Imprint entered its 14th season and featured a variety of panel discussions that included a debate on how Canadian literature is taught in Ontario high schools.

• Studio 2 focused on regional coverage with full-edition specials that reflected life in Northern Ontario – “Living with Bears” in Kenora and “The End of the Road” in Pickle Lake – and also held the annual Town Contest search for the Best Main Street in Ontario (awarded to The Beaches district in Toronto).

• The documentary unit produced programs that focused on diversity and culture in Ontario. These included McLuhan Week, which featured a variety of documentaries on Canadian media guru Marshall McLuhan.

• UTVO, TVO’s university-based programming created partnerships with several colleges and universities including:
  – University of Toronto – Studio 2’s “Going Global” was required viewing for “Networks, Nations and Global Politics” – POL108Y;
  – University of Guelph – the TVO series Death: a Personal Understanding was required viewing for a third-year online psychology course – 3570;
  – Carleton University – Diplomatic Immunity was required viewing for the School of Journalism and Communications: “Journalism and International Reporting” – 421C;
  – York University – Saturday Night at the Movies “The Interviews” was required viewing for the first-year film studies course: “Hollywood: Old & New” – 1701; and Imprint for the second-year “Introduction to Creative Writing” – 2900;
  – Humber College – Imprint was required viewing for the Humber School for Writers post-graduate certificate program.
Canadian media guru Marshall McLuhan was the subject of McLuhan Week on TVO, a series of documentaries produced and aired by TVO’s documentary unit.

The Nook continued its commitment to quality educational programming and produced a number of new series including Lotta Numbers Live to reinforce number recognition and illustrate many topics from the mathematics portion of the Ontario Kindergarten curriculum.

TVO Kids and tvokids.com introduced Time Trackers, an innovative media convergence initiative exploring Canada’s history. Each Time Trackers story consists of four episodes offering children the basic understanding of a Canadian figure and to help them discover the fascination of history. Then they can go online and create their own mini-movie.

Revenue and Development

TVOntario’s Revenue and Development is responsible for securing funds beyond those that are provided by the government. Fundraising is a critical component for the organization as TVOntario continues to develop a stable, renewable resource base that provides greater financial self-sufficiency.

2002-03 Priorities

- Increase earned revenues from all sources, excluding provincial base grant, to at least 33% of total revenues by 2002-03
- Develop and implement a multi-year earned revenue strategy that improves gross earned revenues and reduces the cost of raising a $1.00 of revenue.
- Revitalize the TVOntario Membership base.
- Develop options for marketing TVOntario products and services.
- Provide opportunities for partnerships in order to leverage limited financial resources.
- Develop a plan for revenue generation through major gift activities through the TVOntario Foundation.
- Secure $2.5 million in donations for the TVOntario Foundation.
- Launch the Curriculum Resource Bank, a repository for TVOntario educational resources.

Successes

- TVOntario’s earned revenues from all sources, excluding provincial base grant, represented 35.2% of the total 2002-03 budget.
- In 2002-03 the Revenue & Development department generated gross revenues of $9.8 million, while we reduced the total cost to raise a dollar from 54 cents in 2001-02 to 47 cents in 2002-03.
- Members numbered 85,682 in 2002-03, and donated $6.511 million, continuing the trend of an increase in the average individual gift. The Membership and Annual Giving program continues to offer the greatest growth potential for TVOntario fundraising, and we are still on target to reach our benchmark of 100,000 Members by December 2004. We introduced a very successful TFO on-air campaign, which will be used as a template for future on-air events for both TFO and TVO.
- We increased Sponsorship and Corporate Project funding from $1.155 million in 2001-02 to $1.820 million in 2002-03, and we entered into several multi-year partnerships.
- The Sales and Licensing division introduced the new Curriculum Resource Bank, a service that will offer more than 100 hours of TVOntario’s renowned educational products in a digital format to our current and new clients across North America.
- We revitalized the TVOntario Foundation and recorded revenues of $3.280 million for the year. Of this, $3.2 million were the proceeds of the sub-lease of excess satellite capacity. The OECA Board committed these funds to the TVOntario Foundation in order to create a Matching Gifts Fund, a key component of the upcoming TVOntario Foundation $10 million campaign.

Looking Ahead 2003–04

In 2003-04 TVOntario’s Revenue and Development will continue to seek out increased corporate and Member support in an effort to become more self-sufficient financially. By consistently meeting our fundraising targets, TVOntario will ensure that it will be able to deliver the very best in educational programming and products to the people of Ontario.

General Operations

This year TVOntario’s General Operations groups continued to improve upon our technology infrastructure and move to a more rigorous product development process that requires risk-taking. In 2002-03 we were committed to developing a long-term strategy to address the needs of the organization.

2002-03 Priorities

- Continue to improve business practice and streamline the costs of operating the organization to maximize investment in programming.
- Position the workforce to meet the challenges brought by new technologies and changes in the workplace through training, succession planning, and skills development.
- Develop a capital plan that prepares the organization for technical convergence within the next five years.
- Show a measurable improvement in extending brand awareness and usage of products and services to new education markets.
- Establish the E-learning Centre* as a brand and ensure overall brand consistency.
- Introduce a more rigorous product development process that encourages risk-taking.
- Introduce an innovation fund for creative new projects in the annual budget process.

*Renamed the Independent Learning Centre in October 2002

Successes

- We conducted a review of TVOntario’s IT technologies, with a particular focus on security and reliability. By the end of the year, the server room was reconfigured, a more robust firewall was installed, and we introduced new policies and protocols to protect our systems and our users and improve the service and reliability to our viewers.
- We completed Phase 2 and 3 of the Capital Upgrade project and the organization went from two independent analog master control rooms to a single automated digital master control for both the TVO and TFO networks.
- We reorganized our library and removed over 10 tonnes of obsolete video tape to free up space.
- We developed an IT strategy to renew and upgrade systems applications throughout the organization over the next five years.
- We developed a new three-year business plan that reinforces and advances our mandate as an adjunct to the formal education and training systems in Ontario.
- We began the process to create an educational branding strategy to better position TVOntario as the provider of unique, relevant, and necessary educational services.

Looking Ahead 2003–04

Next year we will move towards a “Learning Organization” that encourages innovation, explores the use of technology to enhance our learning products, and engages all of our staff in pursuit of our mandate. In 2003-04 we will also put in place a marketing and communications strategy to strengthen awareness of our educational products and to cross-promote online learning resources, including ILC courses.

Auditor's Report

To The Ontario Educational Communications Authority and the Minister of Training, Colleges and Universities

I have audited the statement of financial position of The Ontario Educational Communications Authority as at March 31, 2003 as well as the statement of operations and equity, the statement of changes in equity and the statement of cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Authority's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Authority as at March 31, 2003 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Erik Peters, FCA
Provincial Auditor
Toronto, Ontario
May 30, 2003

Management's Responsibility for Financial Statements

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with the Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. Where estimates or judgements have been required, management has determined such amounts on a reasonable basis in conformity with generally accepted accounting policies.

Management is responsible for all information in the financial statements and has certified that all information connected with the financial statements has been provided to the Provincial Auditor.

To assist management in the discharge of its responsibilities, The Ontario Educational Communications Authority (OECA) maintains internal controls that are designed to provide reasonable assurance that its assets are safeguarded, to enable only valid and authorized transactions, and to ensure that accurate, timely and comprehensive financial information is prepared.

The OECA has an Internal Audit unit, whose functions include reviewing and commenting on internal control.

The OECA Board of Directors is responsible for ensuring that management fulfills its responsibilities. The Board has appointed an Audit Committee from among its own members. The Audit Committee meets periodically with management, Internal Audit and the Provincial Auditor to discuss audit, internal control, accounting policy and financial reporting matters. The financial statements were reviewed jointly by the Audit and Finance Committees before approval by the Board of Directors.

The Provincial Auditor conducts an annual audit in accordance with Section II of the Ontario Educational Communications Authority Act. The auditor's report outlines the scope of the auditor's examination and opinion.

Notes to Financial Statements
March 31, 2003

1. Authority and Mandate
The Ontario Educational Communications Authority (the Authority) is a provincial Crown Corporation that was created in June 1970 by an act of the Ontario Legislature. In accordance with the act, the Authority’s main objective is to initiate, acquire, produce, distribute, exhibit or otherwise deal in programs and materials in the educational broadcasting and communications fields.

The Authority is a registered charitable organization which may issue income tax receipts for contributions. As a Crown Corporation of the Province of Ontario and a registered non-profit organization under the Income Tax Act, the Authority is exempt from income taxes.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies
(a) Basis of accounting
The financial statements of the Authority have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

(b) Inventories
Program support materials are valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value where cost is determined on a weighted average basis. Stores and supplies are valued at cost, where cost is determined on a first in, first out basis and is net of an allowance for obsolescence. Video and audio tapes are valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value, where cost is determined on a first in, first out basis.

(c) Capital Assets
Capital assets are recorded at cost less accumulated amortization. Capital assets are amortized on a straight line basis over the following terms beginning the year following acquisition:
- Building 30 years
- Transmitters 17 years
- Transmitter Monitoring Equipment 7 years
- In House Technical Equipment 7 years
- Leasehold Improvements 5 years
- Computer Equipment 5 years
- Office Furniture & Fixtures 15 years
- Office Equipment 10 years
- Vehicles 5 years

(d) Revenue recognition
1. Revenue from the licensing of program material is recognized when the rights to the program material are sold.
2. Membership contributions are recorded on a cash basis.
3. Grants and revenues received in the year for special purposes are deferred until the related expenses have been incurred.
4. Revenue from contributions restricted for the purchase of capital assets is deferred and amortized over the same period as the related capital asset.
5. Student fees for courses and General Education Development testing are recognized as revenues at the time of registration.

(e) Employee Future Benefits
The Authority accrues its obligations under employee defined benefit plans and the related costs, net of plan assets. The transitional asset and obligations are being amortized over the expected average remaining service period of active employees expected to receive benefits under these plans. The cost of pension benefits and other post retirement benefits for the defined benefit plans are actuarially determined by independent actuaries using the projected benefit method prorated on service and management’s best estimates. Pension plan assets are valued at market value.

(f) Use of Estimates
The presentation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingencies at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Cash and Short-term Investments
The Authority’s investment policy restricts short-term investments to securities issued by or guaranteed as to principal and interest by Ontario, any other province of Canada, Canada or the United Kingdom, securities issued by the United States of America or deposit receipts, deposit notes, certificates of deposit, acceptance and other similar instruments issued or endorsed by any chartered bank to which the Bank Act (Canada) applies.

Cash and short-term investments of $11,525,000 (2002 - $15,155,000) include $8,311,000 (2002 - $11,560,000) of investments maturing within 60 days, yielding 2.7% (2002 – 3.3%) on average during the year, with a market value that approximates carrying value.

16. The Independent Learning Centre
Under the terms of an agreement executed March 7, 2002 with the Ministry of Education and the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities, the Independent Learning Centre (ILC) was transferred to the Authority effective April 1, 2002.

The ILC provides a wide range of distance education courses, in English and in French, that allow adults to earn secondary school diploma credits, upgrade their basic skills, or study for personal development. It also supports children who may not be able to access elementary day school programs. The General Education Development (GED) testing is also available through the ILC.

Funding for these activities include grants from the Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities and student fees. Grants are deferred until the related expenses net of student fees revenue, have been incurred.

Differences between provisions and actual settlements will be accounted for at the time of settlement.

18. Comparative figures
Certain of the comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to current presentation.

19. The TVOntario Foundation
The Authority controls The TVOntario Foundation which became designated as a public foundation effective April 1, 1998. The Board of Directors of the Foundation is appointed by the Board of Directors of the Authority. The Foundation is incorporated under the Canada Corporations Act and is a registered charity under the Income Tax Act. The objectives of the Foundation are to receive and maintain a fund or funds and to pay all or part of the principal and income to the Authority provided that the Authority maintains its status as a registered charity and continues to have as its objective the promotion of educational and/or children’s programming.

In accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, the accounts of the Foundation are not consolidated in the financial statements of the Authority. The financial position and results of operations for the year ended March 31, 2003 were as follows:
